History/Background

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court Committee for Proposed Standard Jury Instructions was first appointed in 1968 by Chief Justice John C. Bell for the express purpose of developing pattern jury charges for the assistance of both the bench and the bar. The committee's mission from the outset has been to assist the administration of justice in both civil and criminal court proceedings through the availability of model jury instructions.

As a result, the committee has published comprehensive volumes of suggested civil and criminal jury instructions. The suggested instructions guide judges and lawyers in the preparation and consideration of instructions during the trial process. The ongoing purpose of the committee is to monitor developments in civil and criminal law, recommending and publishing revised and new instructions as required.

Since 1979 the Pennsylvania Bar Institute (PBI) has provided both administrative and publishing support for the committee, as well as funding for this important work. Project costs are underwritten through the sale and distribution of the published suggested standard instructions to the legal community.

Committee Activities

The third supplement to the Civil Jury Instructions was published in 1997. With this supplement, the instructions became available on computer diskette. The process of recruiting a working advisory panel for the next edition or significant supplement is complete. The schedule is set to publish in 2001 with a companion CD-ROM. (See also Lee C. Swartz, "Development and Use of Civil Jury Instructions in Pennsylvania," PBA Quarterly, April 2001, pages 51-54.)

The eighth supplement to the Criminal Jury Instructions was published in the fall of 2000, almost five years since the prior 1995 supplement. With it, the instructions also became available on CD-ROM.

Professor Arthur Murphy, who has served as reporter for the criminal instructions subcommittee for many years, has retired and will no longer be able to assume the reporter responsibilities. Although Professor Murphy has agreed to work on particular instructions, a new reporter or co-reporters are being recruited to work on the next edition.

The immediate goal is to publish new supplements or new editions of both the civil and criminal instructions every two years. The three- or four-year goal is to publish shorter, more frequent supplements or new editions on an annual basis.

Contact Person

Members of the bench and bar are urged to provide their comments and suggestions to the committee. Such comments are of great assistance to the reporters and subcommittee members in their ongoing efforts to ensure that the instructions reflect the current state of the law in Pennsylvania.
